

Dr. Kenneth H. Killen Scholarship Recipient 2017

Dr. Kenneth H. Killen was a great teacher, speaker, author and friend to all. He received the highest honor of ISM, the J. Shipman Gold Medal Award.

ISM Cleveland has partnered with Cleveland State University to bring this opportunity to an ISM-Cleveland State Student Chapter Member.

Congratulations to Alyssa Platek on her $1,000 Scholarship award. She has taken numerous college classes before landing into the Operations and Supply Chain Management Program and finally found a good fit. She was told “You think how our executives do” and has utilized Lean Six Sigma, statistics and data analytics skills to develop her unique skill set both in the business world and with non-profits. She blends the supply chain while working at a non-profit to ensure quality tools required for the job are available at the lowest cost and works with local companies to strategically source the much-needed supplies. She also accepted an internship with Parker Hannifin working with one of our ISM-Cleveland members.
